Harvard Business Review - Unlocking the Benefits of the Multigenerational Workplace

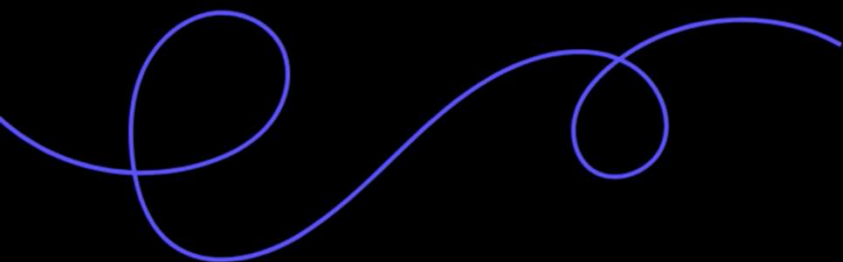

The arguments of the new game:

- It is precisely the synergy between generations that enhances creativity and innovation;
- By 2030, generation Z will represent 30% of the workforce;
- Young people are highly engaged when they connect with a purpose, and when they can balance life vs. work;
- Life expectancy in Brazil has grown by 72% in less than a century. People are aging more actively, functionally, creatively, and productively.

WE NEED TO CHANGE THE LOGIC OF THIS GAME
